PRINCIPAL'S NOTE

It is a matter of pride and celebration that Guru Gobind Singh College for Women has reached this glorious milestone of 50 years of its inception. On this momentous occasion, I invoke the blessings of Guru Gobind Singh Ji, in whose holy name the College is established. Established by the Sikh Educational Society in 1973, GGSCW was among the first women colleges to be set up in the region. No stone has been left unturned on the part of the management in strengthening the college's infrastructure in this digital era. Ever since its inception the College has been striving to uphold high standards of education with a blend of tradition and modernity. The College has contributed immensely to the society by illuminating thousands of young women to be independent and responsible members of society. Numerous alumni have excelled in different fields and have attained marvelous heights of success. The College, carrying forward its rich heritage, has reached a glorious milestone of its Golden Jubilee. This golden jubilee year is for remembrances and for looking ahead to take the institution to the pinnacle of academic excellence. The college research journal 'GyanKosh', first published in 2018 has added new dimensions to the academic and research output of the college. Each issue of 'GyanKosh' has published quality research work of academicians, researchers and scholars in their respective fields. The present issue is being published during the golden jubilee year of the college and we hope that it continues to enrich research fields.

My best wishes to the Editorial team of Gyankosh for the present issue.
